Nine Killed in Arkansas Accidents

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Nine persons died in Christmas holiday weekend traffic accidents in Arkansas, an Associated Press count showed today.

The AP toll of traffic deaths began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Monday.

The latest victims were Luther Abbott, 52, and his wife, Clara, 50, of North Little Rock. They were killed Sunday night in a two-car collision near Englewood.

The other seven victims were killed in Friday night and Saturday accidents.

R. E. Parker, 72, of Lewisville, his 68-year-old wife and Mrs. Noda Lewis, 68, of Waldo, were killed as a result of injuries received in a three-car collision on U. S. 82 about three miles west of Lewisville Friday night.

Richard Walter Duncan, 31, of Texarkana, Tex., was killed Friday night in a car-truck collision on U. S. 82 about 12 miles east of Texarkana.

Harvey Percer, 37, of Leola was killed Saturday in a one-car accident 10 miles southwest of Sheridan at the junction of Arkansas 46 and 291.

John Glover, about 60, of Guy was killed Saturday in a two-car collision two miles east of Guy on Arkansas 25.

Mrs. Vivian McBride, 66, of Van Buren jumped from her car as it left U. S. 71 four miles south of Fayetteville Saturday. State Police said. She was killed instantly.

Raps Ouster of Soviet Newsmen

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Foreign Ministry said today the ouster of three Soviet newsmen from Peking is unprecedented between Communist nations and implied that an equal number of Red Chinese newsmen may be expelled from Moscow.

The Soviet news agency Tass said the ministry, in a protest delivered to the Chinese Embassy, reserved the right to take "appropriate measures" because the Chinese correspondents were slandering Soviet policies and people.

Without specifying which ones, Chinese authorities have ordered half the six Soviet newsmen to leave Peking by Dec. 25.

Ouster of the Russians would equalize the number of newsmen the two countries have in each other's capitals. But the Soviet protest said China had "no grounds whatsoever" to raise the question of numerical reciprocity.

Earlier this year, all Soviet students were ordered out of China and the Russians expelled Chinese students.

Sikhs Delay Plans for Suicide

By R. SATAKOPAN
AMRITSAR, India (AP) — A last-minute agreement by Prime Minister Indira Gandhi averted the suicides by fire Monday of six Sikhs, ended the 10-day fast of Sikh leader Sant Fateh Singh and removed a grave threat of communal violence.

Fateh Singh slipped orange juice offered by Hukam Singh, Mrs. Gandhi's emissary, after they conferred on Sikh state of Punjab Suba.

"Everything has been amicably settled," Fateh Singh said. Hukam Singh, speaker of the lower house of Parliament and a Sikh, came to this walled city in northwestern India only two hours before the Sikhs planned to set themselves afire. The six waited nearby as the talks went on past the deadline.

Fateh Singh had threatened to burn himself today.

Mrs. Gandhi agreed to arbitrate the disposition of Chandigarh, now the capital of both Punjab Suba and the adjacent Hindu state of Haryana. Both states were formed from the old state of Punjab. The Sikhs want Chandigarh all to themselves.

Hukam Singh said after his return to New Delhi he had assured Fateh Singh that the city ultimately will go to the Sikhs.

The prime minister will also determine which state owns Bhakra Dam, a hydroelectric irrigation facility north of Chandigarh. Under a previous agreement, each state will have its own governor and high court to replace the present joint governor and court.

Arson Suspected in Goldwater Fire

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Firemen suspect arson in the blaze that destroyed the $10,000 sports car of former Republican presidential candidate Barry Goldwater.

When the firefighters arrived at Goldwater's home Monday, they found the short wave radio-equipped car in flames.

Alabama Soon Will Have 2 Governors

By REX THOMAS
MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — In just 29 days, the State of Alabama will have two governors for the price of one — give or take a dollar.

Gov.-elect Lurleen Wallace insists on it. On Jan. 16, she succeeds husband George in the $25,000-a-year job as the state's chief executive.

But from then on, he'll be at her right hand, her No. 1 adviser, a promise she made to the voters in her whirlwind campaigning.

"I'm going to be at the capitol fulltime," Mrs. Wallace said, relaxing behind a desk piled high with mail from well-wishers. "I'm going to be active, but the governor (that's the way she expects her husband to be addressed when he leaves office) will be there with me. We'll be there together."

So far there's no provision for payment of a gubernatorial adviser, but she has half-jokingly called him "a dollar-a-year man," and if the state doesn't pay it, perhaps she will.

A 40-year-old mother of four, Mrs. Wallace has never been a stickler for formality or protocol. But she is dealing with the fact that she will be working with a former governor, and he is her husband. That presents some problems.

How do you address her? "It is the Honorable Gov. Lurleen B. Wallace, if you want to be real strict and stick to protocol," the governor-elect volunteered. "During my administration, however, everything official will be Lurleen B. Wallace."

If you want to get her dander up, try referring to them as "Gov. and Mr. George Wallace."

"As long as they live, every other ex-governor in Alabama carries the title of 'governor' as a courtesy," Mrs. Wallace said firmly. "I will insist on Gov. Wallace not being called 'mistress'."

Three of the Wallaces children live at the mansion — Peggy, 17; George Jr., 15, and Lee, 5—but there won't be any baby-sitter problem. Mrs. Wallace's mother, Mrs. Henry Burns, lives in Montgomery and is available to look after the children anytime she's needed.

The incoming governor doesn't intend to let her official duties interfere with her responsibility as a mother. "I have been involved in politics with the governor for 20 years, particularly the last four years," she explained, "and I have still had time to supervise the children, and I will still do that."

The trim, blonde First Lady likes to rib her husband with an occasional touch of good-natured sarcasm. She enjoys pointing to counties she carried this election that her husband lost in his campaign four years ago.

Mrs. Wallace is the third woman in U.S. history to be elected governor. And she already has a first-hand knowledge of the responsibilities and the decisions that the job requires.

The U.S. Navy coined the term radar in 1942, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Kennedy Book Issue Before Judge

By JOHN VINOCUR
NEW YORK (AP) — The dispute over "The Death of a President" goes into a judge's chambers today with Mrs. John F. Kennedy's attorney favoring a postponement of hearings on her move to block publication of the book.

Author William Manchester, hospitalized with pneumonia, and Harper & Row, publishers of his 300,000-word manuscript on the assassination of the president, have been ordered to show cause in state Supreme Court why they should not be barred from bringing out the account.

Lawyers for the two sides were to discuss the situation informally in Justice Saul Streit's chambers.

"I have no grave objections to putting the matter over as long as necessary," said Simon H. Rifkind, attorney for Mrs. Kennedy. "I'll make that very clear. Counsel for Mr. Manchester needs the views of his client and that's not possible now."

Streit, who issued the show cause order Dec. 16, suggested previously he would agree to postpone the hearings if negotiations on removing disputed passages from the text were not completed by today.

Negotiations on trimming passages that Mrs. Kennedy considers intimate beyond the interest of history continued Monday. More talks — a Kennedy spokesman said they "are going along well" — were scheduled for today.

Mrs. Kennedy has already reached a settlement on deleting sections of a 60,000-word extract of the manuscript that Look magazine plans to serialize beginning in the issue which reaches newsstands Jan. 10. The book is scheduled for publication in April.

The literary and legal maneuvering came against a background of Manchester's illness, a White House statement denying comments attributed to the President by Newsweek magazine relating to the assassination, and Mrs. Kennedy's departure with her children for a holiday on the British West Indies island of Antigua.

Manchester was ordered to remain in the hospital for at least a week after his admission early Monday morning with what his physician called "a slight touch of pneumonia."

The 44-year-old writer remained on the critical list in Middlesex Memorial Hospital, Middletown, Conn., although he was reported responding well to antibiotic treatment. A complete diagnosis would take at least three days and until then he would be considered in critical condition, Dr. F. Erwin Tracy said.

Tracy barred telephone calls of "an emotional or controversial nature" to Manchester. The doctor said he has been "confused and depressed" for the past few weeks.

Jail Sool for 2 Red Officials

TOKYO (AP) — A rally of 100,000 Red Guards in Peking denounced President Liu Shao-chi and party General Secretary Teng Hsiao-ping today as leaders of the "bourgeois reactionary line," Japanese correspondents reported from the Chinese capital.

The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug reported from Peking Monday that Liu and Teng would be arrested soon. The two are the highest targets of the purge led by Mao and his heir apparent, Defense Minister Lin Biao.

The New China News Agency said today the warning sent to Premier Antonio Salazar was in a telegram from a rally of 15,000 Chinese near the Portuguese coastal enclave.

Gilbert Stuart, who was interested only in the subject of his pictures, had the habit of leaving the background only partly finished.

Holiday Fires Claim at Least 57

At least 36 children and 21 adults died and many other persons were left homeless in fires during the Christmas holiday weekend.

The heaviest toll in one fire may have occurred in Northern California where seven are believed to have died. Blazes in Alaska and Maryland each claimed six lives.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — Once network television gets past the New Year parades and football games, it will present viewers with almost a dozen new shows to sample and a lot of schedule changes. The so-called "second season" starts around Jan. 9.

But for those network executives who decide what we shall see and when we shall see it, the 1966-67 television season is already history, and not very happy history at that. They are now concentrating on the programs and schedules for next September.

CBS hopes to have its entire 1967-68 schedule "locked in" by Washington's Birthday, and NBC and ABC cannot afford to be far behind. For competitive and sales reasons, all three are trying to keep their plans and programs a secret.

Already, we know a few shows that will be arriving nine months hence — NBC's new Danny Thomas series and CBS' Carol Burnett comedy programs. There will be about 25 more when fall rolls around — fewer than usual because those two-hour movie reruns take up a lot of time.

The one thing that makes television programming an expensive gamble is that a few men must try to guess now what viewers will be interested in watching months ahead — and viewers are notoriously fickle.

In this high stakes game, with millions of dollars in development money invested, the Nielsen ratings are more helpful than a crystal ball. Currently the Nielsen numbers indicate that we want more situation comedy and outdoor adventure. A couple of seasons ago, situation comedy was as out of fashion as Congress gaiters.

There has been a marked lack of interest in the most recent switch of the Western theme. Several shows that tried to get away from the classic type of show failed to make much of a splash — "Shane," "The Road West" and "The Monroes."

Although outdoor programs like "Rat Patrol," "Tarzan" and "Haktari" seem to be attracting big audiences, it is the oldtimers of television who are sitting comfortably on the top of the Nielsen list. That means Red Skelton, Lucille Ball, Andy Griffith, Jackie Gleason and Ed Sullivan and the Walt Disney programs.

A Return to Elegance For Feminine Beauty

By PATRICIA KING

Beauty Editor

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) — "I keep it short, below the earlobe and fuller," explained New York hairstylist John Bernard when talking about his new spring look for daytime.

As he sees it, a smooth, off-the-brow, soft look is desired, with everything leaning toward the romantic and elegant.

When it comes to evening and party time, Bernard said this versatile cut can easily transform a sportive but feminine hairstyle to one of great glamor.

This can be done easily with the help of a flowing hairpiece, cluster of curls or even a simple single curl that can be pinned on at the most pieces at one time.

True, short-to-medium hair is most becoming and easy to manage for daytime wear.

A good cut and, for some, a good body wave and continuous brushing should keep your hair looking its best. Hair must be cut regularly to maintain that healthy look.

Bernard insists, and rightly so, that the "hard cut" (short and blunt) is only for a certain few. A haircut should not only go with bone construction but also your personality. "The hard cut is an ugly style and is even more repulsive when it is worn with the miniskirt," says Bernard.

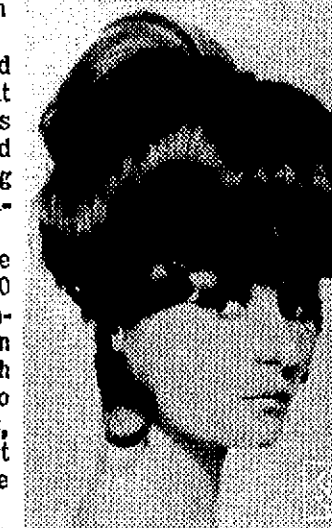

"The unattractive area at the back of the knees and a chopped hairdo makes an utterly revolting picture."

Elegance in Small Bags

The elegant small bag is of great importance to the fashion scene right now. Adorned with gleaming chain handles and glittering clasps, they make elegant after-5 appearances.

Slip-Blouse Combination

Little girls will stay flower fresh and always neat in a slip that is also a blouse. Prettyly embroidered with eyelid or dainty lace, some have long torsos bottomed with full skirts or tailored shift styles. Short or long sleeves for your little lady's preference.

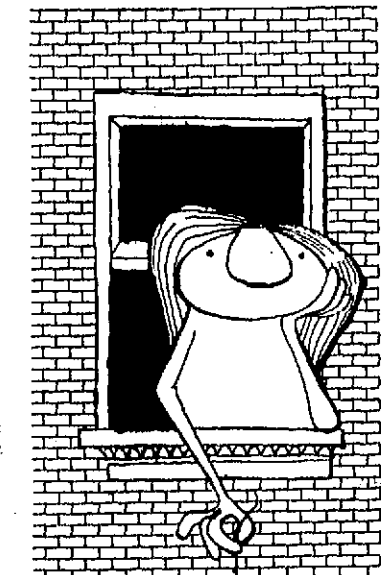

FOR DAYTIME WEAR John Bernard designed casual, full-blown (upper) hairstyle. For evenings on-the-town this same cut with a different styling and comb-out has added a single curl (bottom), setting the elegant, romantic mood.

flirtatious spot.

By adding a fall or hairpiece in the evening you can create a lovely frame for your face.

If you are fortunate enough to have more than one piece don't feel you can only wear one at a time. Not so, claims Bernard. If artistically and carefully arranged, you can feature two or three hair-

If you would like to approximate the effect of a Finnish sauna, take a spanking hot sudsy bath and rub your skin vigorously with a well-lathered firm brush until your whole skin has a rosy glow. Then turn on the cold shower and let it pelt down fast and sharp.

Soak Away Tension

Did you know that nervous tension can be a cause of many skin problems? A good way to ease tension is to soak in a tub of warm water before bedtime. Apart from cleaning the skin surface and rinsing away skin cell debris, warm water opens up the pores, dilates the blood vessels and relaxes the body tissue. To soothe and soften the skin as you soak, add two cups of a fragrant, refreshing bath oil to the water. Relax for at least five minutes, then blot dry gently.

Yank Stars Win Over the Rebels

By BEN FUNK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A team of Yankee stars, eager to impress a flock of pro scouts in the stands, rolled to a 27-14 victory over the Rebels Monday night in the North-South college football game.

Eugene Trosch, 6-foot-6, 247-pound defensive tackle from the University of Miami, was voted the most valuable player for the South, and another defensive tackle, Pete Duranko, 6-2, 235-pounder from Notre Dame, was picked for the North.

The North team, winning only for the seventh time in the 18-year series, powered to a 20-0 halftime lead, then coasted home behind a rugged defense.

Donald Cockroft, the nation's leading punter from Adams State College in Colorado, boosted the Yanks into a 6-0 first quarter lead with field goals of 31 and 38 yards.

Then, in one minute, 12 seconds of the second period, the Yanks scored twice on a nine-yard pass from Colorado's Bernie McCall to Tulsa's Neal Sweeney and a 20-yard dash with an intercepted pass by Duranko.

Houston's Bo Burris finally found the range for the South in the last quarter with scoring shots of 15 and 11 yards to Gary Rowe of North Carolina State.

But the South never got in close shooting distance as the North also scored in the fourth on a nine-yard run by Bo Rein of Ohio State.

The postseason bowl activity hits its peak this weekend with the Rose, Sugar, Orange, Cotton and Gator Bowls, the East-West Shrine Game and the NFL and AFL championship games.

The Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., matches Tennessee, 7-3, and Syracuse, 8-2 while the Cotton Bowl at Dallas has Georgia, 9-1, vs. Southern Methodist, 8-2. The Shrine game in San Francisco matches all-star teams of seniors from the East and West.

Green Bay, 12-2, and Dallas, 10-3-1, play for the NFL championship in Dallas while Kansas City, 11-2-1, and Buffalo, 9-4-1, are matched in Buffalo for the AFL title.

The Sugar Bowl in New Orleans has Alabama, 10-0, vs. Nebraska, 9-1, the Rose Bowl in Pasadena, Calif., presents Purdue, 8-2, vs. Southern California, 7-3, and the Orange Bowl in Miami pits Georgia Tech, 9-1, and Florida, 8-2.

The television line-up, all times Eastern Standard, has ABC showing the Gator Bowl at noon Saturday, CBS on the Cotton Bowl at 2:30 p.m. and NBC with the Shrine Game at 4:30. 76ers Again Defeat Cincinnati

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Not counting games against the Boston Celtics, the Philadelphia 76ers are 41-1 against the rest of the National Basketball Association since last March.

But then again, who's perfect?

Led by Wilt Chamberlain ("Mr. Inside") and Hal Greer ("Mr. Outside") the fabulous Philadelphia 76ers whipped the Cincinnati Royals 134-118 Monday night to establish a new NBA home-court consecutive victory string.

The 76ers, who lead the Eastern Division with a phenomenal 33-3 record, have won 30 straight regular home games — 14 last year and 16 this season. The new mark breaks the old standard set by Minneapolis in the

Cotton Bowl Game Has Good Kickers

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — If the Cotton Bowl football game next Saturday should get down to a matter of place-kicking — and with Georgia and Southern Methodist boasting defenses that could put a premium on field goals — there are a couple of guys who ought to meet the issue.

Bob Etter of Georgia has done more of it than his counterpart, Dennis Partee of Southern Methodist, but the results haven't been more successful.

Partee is the fellow who won two games in a combined 33 seconds. He kicked a field goal to pull Southern Methodist within two points of Texas, then booted a 32-yarder with 18 seconds left to win the game 13-12.

Partee's 10-yard field goal with 15 seconds remaining knocked down Baylor 24-22.

Etter kicked three field goals against Georgia Tech. His field goal tied the score and another won the game against Mississippi State.

His point after touchdown put Georgia ahead to stay against Auburn. He kicked two field goals against Miami, might have gotten another but for a bad center snap. Miami won the only game Georgia lost, 7-6.

Partee booted 21 of 23 extra points and landed on four of nine field goal attempts. He also punted 47 times for an average of 36 yards.

Etter was about the most accurate and busiest kicker in the country. He sent 12 of 15 field goal tries through the crossbars, he kicked 21 of 22 extra point attempts.

Etter led the Southeastern Conference in scoring with 57 points. It was the first time a place-kicker ever turned this trick.

Arkansas steps into rugged collegiate basketball competition tonight when the Porkers collide with Southern California in the opening round of the Los Angeles Classic.

Meanwhile, two holiday tournaments in Arkansas get under way Wednesday — the Arkansas State meet at Jonesboro featuring sixth-ranked Houston and the AIC Holiday Tournament at Southern State in Magnolia.

The Razorbacks, 1-5 for the year, will play three games at Los Angeles regardless of their outcome tonight. Eight teams are entered. Following first round games tonight and Wednesday night, winners will enter the championship semifinals and losers the consolation semifinals.

Houston, sporting a 9-1 record including seven victories in a row, will battle Kent State of Ohio in the first game of the Arkansas State tournament Wednesday at 7 p.m. Host Arkansas State will collide with Virginia Military Institute in the second game at 9 p.m.

Four games are slated in the AIC three-day meet opening Wednesday.

Defending champion Arkansas State Teachers College takes on Northeast Louisiana State in the opener at 1:30 p.m. Other games Wednesday send Arkansas College against Ouachita Baptist at 3:30, Sam Houston against Henderson at 7 p.m. and Ozarks against Southern State at 9 p.m.

1949-50 season.

The last time Philadelphia lost at home was a 126-120 defeat by the Los Angeles Lakers Jan. 7, 1966.

Monday night the astounding 7-foot-1 Chamberlain poured in 33 points, handed out 10 assists, took down 32 rebounds. Mr. Greer, the "Mr. Outside" of the 76ers offense, scored 35 points from where he does it best — the outside.

In other games, Boston ripped Los Angeles 121-106, New York dropped Detroit 114-109.

St. John's Shook Up in Tourney

By MURRAY CHASS
NEW YORK (AP) — Northwestern is in the semifinals of the Holiday Festival basketball tournament because Dan Davis was in the right place at the right time. Providence is there because Jim Walker makes the right place and the right time.

Davis was under the basket with one second to play and converted a rebound into a three-point play that gave Northwestern a 62-60 upset over eighth-ranked St. John's, N.Y., Monday.

The Wildcats later learned they will play defending champion Providence in Wednesday night's semifinal. The Friars, with Walker dribbling, faking and shooting his way to 37 points, walloped Duquesne 82-55.

In the other games Rhode Island crushed St. Bonaventure 109-79 and St. Joseph's, Pa., upset Brigham Young 67-61.

Rhode Island and St. Joseph's will meet in the other semifinal contest.

Walker put on a performance reminiscent of the 50-point show he gave last year in leading Providence to a 91-86 victory over Boston College in the title game and in winning the tournament's most valuable player award.

Against Duquesne, the 6-foot-3 senior scored the Friars' first nine points, 16 of the first 19 and 21 of the first 27. He added 16 more points to the shouts from the 14,636 fans of "Walker, Walker, Walker."

What Walker does is dribble, dribble and dribble some more until the man guarding him makes a mistake. Then, even before the defender realizes what he's done wrong, Walker takes another dribble and is up in the air, firing the ball into the basket.

Against St. John's Northwestern's Davis had his best one second of this, his first varsity season.

St. John's led 60-59 with 23 seconds to go. The Wildcats had the ball, but no one could get clear for a shot. Finally, with four seconds left, Terry Gamber fired a desperation shot.

It fell short, but Davis leaped, grabbed it and put in a two-pointer. He was fouled and added the free throw.

Davis, who had entered the game for the first time only 3 1/2 minutes before, explained how he happened to be in the right place.

"The odds are that when a man shoots from the right side the ball will come over to the left," he said. "I moved two steps to get there and jumped."

Ralston Has Turned to Pro Ranks

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — America's top amateur tennis player, Dennis Ralston, made official today what had long been rumored. He has turned professional.

"Professional tennis offers me a future while amateur tennis in the United States offers a player nothing," Ralston told The Associated Press.

Thus ends the amateur career after seven years of the still at 24 boyish, strawberry blond Californian who has played all over the world and won everything in sight except for the two big ones.

"Any regrets?" he was asked. "Yes," said Dennis, as his intimates know him, and he named the two big ones — Wimbledon and the U.S. National at Forest Hills.

Ralston said he preferred not to divulge the financial terms of his pro contract but he reportedly signed for three years for $100,000.

The contract was signed with Wallace M. Dill of the International Professional Tennis Association. Dill announced the contract Monday.

Ralston said he has thought about turning pro for over a year.

"I've got a family and I do have to start looking toward the future," he said.

Ralston's pro career will get under way next month in Australia, followed by competition in the U.S., Europe and South Africa.

The opposition will include veteran Pancho Gonzales of the U.S. and Australians Rod Laver, Ken Rosewall and Lew Hoad.

As late as the 1927-28 season there were 150 theatrical productions in New York City alone, according to the Encyclopaedia Britannica.

Packers Not Worried Over Icy Field

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Green Bay Packer Coach Vince Lombardi could hardly be blamed if he declined the next time somebody suggests Tulsa's Skelly Stadium as a December training site.

It wasn't even certain the Packers would finish their final week of drills here for their Jan. 1 encounter with the Dallas Cowboys for the National Football League championship.

Lombardi was perturbed when the Packers arrived Monday to find Skelly Stadium's turf still covered with a thin layer of snow which fell last Thursday.

The Packers worked out in the snow and scheduled another drill for today after obtaining assurance the snow would be scraped off and the field covered.

Workers cleared the field and put down a plastic cover, but the weather bureau forecast heavy snow today, possibly extending into Wednesday.

Lombardi said the Packers would stay as planned if the field condition did not get worse.

Most embarrassed by the awkward chain of events was the Skelly Stadium Corp., which lured the Packers to Tulsa in hopes they would like conditions well enough to play an exhibition game next summer.

Thinks Dallas Can Defeat Green Bay

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — "We have a very good chance of beating Green Bay and winning the National Football League championship," said Don Meredith Tuesday.

The Cowboys quarterback, who has become a Dallas institution—he has played football here for 11 years—wasn't speaking in a tone of braggadocio.

"There are a lot of reasons why Dallas can beat Green Bay," he said. "First we have a good team—good enough to win. Green Bay has the type team for us to play — they execute very well, rely on coordination, and we are the same. So it is a matter of execution and if we do it properly—which I believe we will—we will win."

It couldn't come sooner either, Meredith mused.

"I never have played on a championship team and I started in the sixth grade," he declared.

Meredith said he guessed this was the biggest test he ever faced.

"There couldn't be any greater—this one means the most, it has the highest stakes, not necessarily in money but in prestige. I welcome it and I know my teammates welcome it. We feel we are prepared to meet the challenge."

"This kind of opportunity doesn't come for many people. It is the chance of a lifetime. We don't intend to let it pass."

"The two weeks off has done me a world of good. I am at full strength as are the other members of this team. We can win this game—and we are going to win it."

Geoffrion Has Real Hot Stick

NEW YORK (AP) — The hottest stick in the National Hockey League belongs to 35-year-old Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion, who a year ago was coaching in the minors.

Geoffrion, who retired to coaching in 1964 after 14 seasons with Montreal, continued his amazing comeback with the just-as-amazing New York Rangers by scoring five goals in three games last week.

Official figures released today show Geoffrion tied with teammate Don Marshall and Detroit's Norm Ullman for sixth place in the NHL scoring race. The Boomer has 10 goals and 15 assists for 25 points.

UCLA Still Rated Best in Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
St. John's of New York shook up the Associated Press college basketball poll by knocking off Kansas last week and now Northwestern has shaken up St. John's.

The Redmen dropped the Jayhawks right out of the poll with a 62-44 licking a week ago and earned themselves eighth place in this week's ranking.

But in the opening round of New York's Holiday Basketball Festival Monday, Northwestern nipped St. John's 62-60 and that means the Redmen's stay among the Top Ten could be as short as Kansas' was.

The panel of sports writers and broadcasters left the top four rankings unchanged. UCLA remained No. 1, Louisville second, North Carolina third and Texas Western fourth. Three of those teams play in tournaments this week.

Texas Western hosts the four-team Sun Carnival opening at El Paso Thursday. North Carolina is not entered in any tournament but will stay busy, playing Furman tonight and Ohio State Friday.

Michigan State, also entered in the Quaker City tournament, slipped five notches from fifth to 10th after losing to New Orleans Loyola last week.

The Spartans' No. 5 slot went to New Mexico, who moved up one notch from No. 6. New Mexico hosts the Lobo Invitational with three other teams entered. It opens Thursday.

Houston moved up two spots to No. 6 and is entered in the Arkansas State Invitational beginning Wednesday. Cincinnati, No. 7, plays St. Joseph's of Indiana Wednesday and Iowa Friday. Vanderbilt, which moved up to ninth, is off this week.

Labor Strife Promised to Race Tracks

ARCADIA, Calif. (AP) — Three years of nonlabor strife was promised today to all California race tracks — unless trouble breaks out on some new front.

Santa Anita's big racing plant, which has learned to live dangerously, escaped its latest strike threat as a post-Christmas present Monday some 10 hours before post time for the first race.

Management representing the nine racing associations in California and representatives of the AFL-CIO and Teamsters unions settled their long and bitter controversy.

As a result, pari-mutuel clerks and maintenance crews will receive $1 a day increases for the first two years and 75 cents for the third year, plus health and welfare benefits.

Attendance for opening day was 52,264 and the betting handle was $3,066,455.

Indian Pair in Upset of Australians

By GORDON TAIT
MELBOURNE, Australia (AP) — The Indian pair of Ramathan Krishnan and Jaideep Mukerjee defeated Australians John Newcombe and Tony Roche 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-4 Tuesday in one of the greatest upsets of Davis Cup challenges.

The victory means India's challenge for amateur tennis' most prized trophy remains alive into the third day, with Australia holding a 2-1 lead and two singles matches to go.

When Roche outed the final point, the Indians, grinning broadly, put their arms about each other as they hurried to the net to shake hands with the shocked Australians.

The crowd of 10,000 stood and applauded the Indians as they left the court after a gallant fight which they won by brilliant tennis that nobody expected.

In Wednesday's singles matches, Krishnan plays Roy Emerson and Mukerjee battles Fred Stolle.

The dramatic Indian comeback had the crowd gripping their seats in excitement and yelling and cheering.

After tying the match at one set apiece, the Indians easily won the third set, never losing more than a single point in a game. The fourth set was tied 2-2 but Mukerjee put his tea ahead by smashing a gam point between Newcombe and Roche.

The Australians had a chance to even the match in the eighth game, but they lost a 30-0 lead then committed two errors and lost the game.

It was downhill for the Indians the rest of the way.

As far as the over-all play concerned, though, it's still uphill for the visitors.

Phillips Goes Right Into the Lineup

STANFORD, Calif. (AP) — A Kansas defensive tackle, Lo Phillips was placed in the starting line-up of the West squad Monday when he arrived to begin preparation for Saturday's East-West Shrine game at San Francisco.

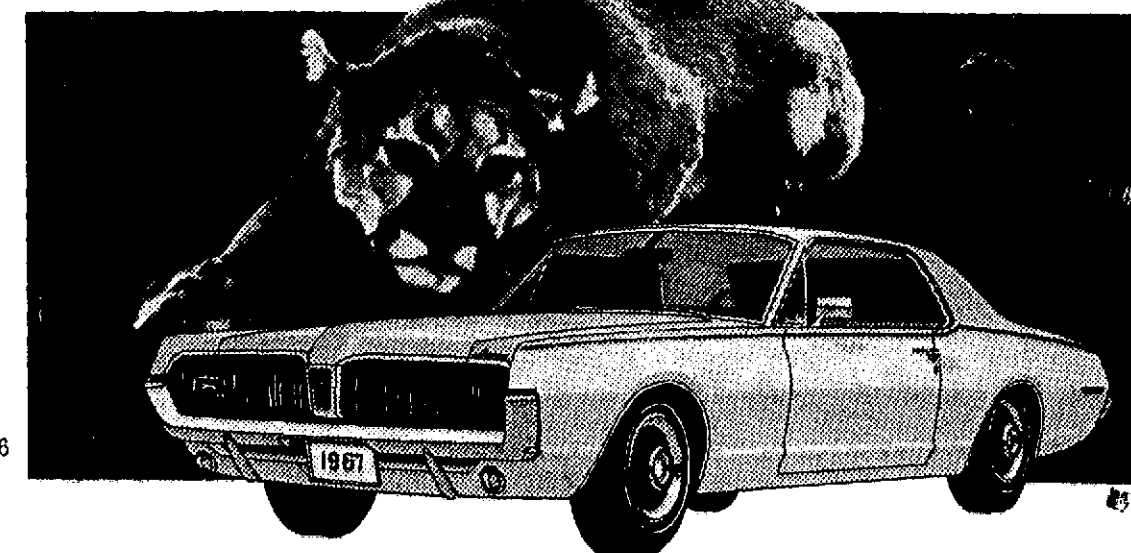

"A top player like Phillips shouldn't have much difficulty adjusting to the squad," said West Coach John Ralston.

Phillips, a two-time Associated Press All-America and winner of this year's Oull Award, was late arriving for drills because of sickness in his family.

Chiefs Get Ready for Big Game

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Kansas City Chiefs ended a three-day holiday and began their final week of drills today for the American Football League championship game at Buffalo New Year's Day.

Snow was forecast, but Coach Hank Stram has said that unless the weather gets unreasonable the Chiefs will continue their practice in Kansas City.

The Bills left Buffalo for five days of practice in Winston-Salem, N.C.

The Chiefs are looking for old weather with possibly snow and a slippery field when the division titlists play for the league championship.

But Stram is undaunted by the weather predictions.

"Contrary to what most football fans think," Stram said, "a slippery field favors the passing game."

Look at it this way: The offensive players know where they are going, the defensive players have to react. It's tougher to get traction for the pass rush and the defensive backs have to be cautious because they are afraid they will slip.

The Chiefs, with the most potent offense in the AFL this season, will go into the game as slight favorites although they will have to contend with the heralded Buffalo defense.

The Chiefs began their regular season last September by knocking the defending champion Bills 42-20. Then Buffalo came back to spoil Kansas City's home opener in October by beating the Chiefs 29-14.

Pat Smith's Outdoor Notebook

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In these high-powered times, when mankind seems in a terrible sweat about everything from war to women, there is little leisure time for such "pastimes" as father-and-son relationships.

The above seems especially true in the metropolitan areas where many fathers toil endlessly erecting monuments to themselves while their sons are left to build their own character.

The Winchester-Western Division, consequently, tried to apply some positive force in the opposite direction by holding the first Shotgun Seminar in Stratford, Conn., the end of September, for 25 fathers and their sons. The program offered lectures, practical instruction, trap and skeet shooting and a day of pheasant hunting with expert guides.

"Hunting is one of man's oldest activities," said Jack Peat, Winchester vice president, "and he has been introducing his sons to its lore and worth for as long as anyone remembers."

"We feel that the traditional hunting instinct—tempered with sportsmanship and steeped in a knowledge of conservation—is of immeasurable benefit to young men."

A gallery of outstanding outdoorsmen provided both theoretical and practical instruction in gun handling, dog training, big and small game hunting and trap and skeet.

Men like Fred Missildine and Cliff Hagan, who together have won enough cups and trophies to go into the precious metals business, sounded off on trap and skeet.

Other participating experts included: Pete Kuhlhoff (gun editor, Argosy magazine); Larry Koller (associate editor, Guns and Hunting magazine); Ed Zern (associate editor, Field & Stream); Pete Barrett (outdoor writer, True magazine); and Dick Wolters, author of four best-selling books on dogs.

All participants received certificates and patches recording their membership in the seminar. Every father and son was

Get the Bowl Picture on TV

By DAVE BURGIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — (NEA) —

There are so many football bowl games, college and pro, being promoted these days that it would surprise no one if somebody came up with a game for losers.

"I heard that even the New York Giants have received a bowl invitation," cracked TV's Johnny Carson. "They've been asked to play Jan. 1 in the Viet Cong Bowl."

It used to be that the colleges had all the glory when it came to bowl games. The Super Bowl has taken care of that because, right now, the nation is thinking pro.

This doesn't mean the New Year's weekend lineup won't score well in Nielsen ratings. Quite the contrary. The bowls don't have a Michigan State-Notre Dame to bring you, but, oh, do they have pro prospects!

Don't bet that at least one halftime or pregame interview won't produce a pro scout talking about the great career some player has in front of him!

Playing in the five major bowls—Rose, Cotton, Sugar, Orange and Gator—on Dec. 31 or Jan. 2 will be no less than a dozen or so consensus All-Americans.

Throw in another eight or 10 players off the All-America second teams, plus another 20 off the honorable mention lists, and you've just about got a Who's Who in Pro Football for 1972.

Of course there are some bonafide All-Americans (pro prospects, if you prefer) who won't make the bowl games. You can see them in the all-star games—the East-West Shrine game from San Francisco on Dec. 31, or wait a week and watch the Senior Bowl game from Mobile, Ala., on Jan. 7.

On Friday night, Dec. 30, do an hour of eyeball exercises after dinner and then get plenty of sleep. Saturday, Tennessee and Syracuse meet in the Gator Bowl (ABC) at Jacksonville, followed by Southern Methodist-Georgia (CBS) in the Cotton Bowl game from Dallas.

Keeping in mind that pro scouts dig size, speed and desire the most, watch the play of Tennessee's Austin Denny, Paul Naumoff and Dewey Warren; Syracuse's Floyd Little and Gary Bugenhagen; SMU's John La Grone; and Georgia's Edgar Chandler, Bill Stanfill and George Patton.

Now on New Year's Day, there's a little matter of two championship games, one between Green Bay and Dallas for the National Football League title and the other between Buffalo and Kansas City for the American Football League crown.

Sunday's action not only will prime you for the big Super Bowl game on Jan. 15, it will renew your perspective for pro-prospect watching in three more bowl games on Monday, Jan. 2.

In the Sugar Bowl game (NBC), take long looks at Ray Perkins, Cecil Dowdy and Bobby Johns of Alabama, and Wayne Meylan, Laverne Albers and Larry Wachholtz of Nebraska.

Next comes the Rose Bowl (NBC), the battle to see if the Big Ten's second best, Purdue, is better than the AAWU's second best, Southern California. The men to watch are Purdue's Bob Griese and Jim Beirne and USC's Nate Shaw and Roy Yary.

In the evening comes the Orange Bowl (NBC). This is perhaps a highlight for pro-prospect watchers because the No. 1 player of 1966, Florida's quarterback Steve Spurrier, is playing. But Georgia Tech will counter with Jim Breland, Lenny Snow and Sammy Burke.

As for the game aspect of the college bowl lineup, there is little to get excited about—no national championship at stake and no real grudge matches. The best bet, Alabama vs. Nebraska, lost its luster when Nebraska blew its last game to Oklahoma and messed up the Sugar Bowl promotion as a showdown of

If the eyeballs hold up through all those games, you're probably in the wrong business. The first thing a club owner checks when he's hiring a scout is eyes.

THE DOCTOR'S MAILBAG

Safest to Cut, Not Pull, Hair from a Mole

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D. Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Q—In a recent column you stated that hair protruding from a mole should be removed only by cutting with scissors. I have always removed a single hair from a small brown mole (about once a month) with tweezers. What harm will this do?

A—It has apparently done no harm in your case but there is always the danger that irritation of the mole will stimulate premalignant cells to become cancerous.

Q—What is a benign nevus?
A—This is a mole that is not cancerous.

Q—I have narcolepsy and have taken Ritalin, Dexedrine and Desoxyn but they have done me no good. What would you suggest?

A—In this disease a person may at any time of the day get an uncontrollable desire to sleep. The sleep is not prolonged or continuous but the attacks can be very dangerous if they occur when the victim is driving a car.

The three drugs you mention are helpful to most victims. They all act in the same way. You might try a different type of drug that has been used to treat this disease, such as a combination of pentylene tetrazol and niacin (Metalex, Niapent or Nicozol) or deanol (Deaner). They all require a doctor's prescription.

Q—Is narcolepsy hereditary? Are there any symptoms besides the drowsiness?

A—Narcolepsy is a hereditary disease. There are many symptoms besides the drowsiness.

Catching the Public Eye

Seven attractive sisters, each with long and luxuriant hair, opened a shop for the sale of hair tonic. Every day they took turns sitting in the show window, combing and brushing their tresses. The performance was such a sensational success that the sidewalk was jammed all day long.

But when a neighboring merchant complained in court, the judge ordered the show halted. He said it was improper to drum up business in a way that shut off the public sidewalk and blocked access to adjacent stores.

Of course, catching the public eye is a lawful and proper activity. But the methods used must not infringe unduly on other legitimate interests in the community.

Thus, just as a too-sensational window display may be curbed, so may a too-insistent sound. For example: A music shop placed a phonograph in the doorway, played it relentlessly from morning to night. The volume was so loud that clerks in a nearby store developed headaches, grew jittery, and lost interest in their work.

A court held that this too was an abuse of the right to advertise—and ordered the volume turned down.

Safety, also, may justify limits on the ways and means of advertising. A court held unlawful a sign in front of a barber shop, so low-hung that it menaced the heads of passing pedestrians.

On the other hand, regulation must be reasonable. An arbitrary ban on a particular type of advertising, not reasonably related to a valid community purpose, may be held unconstitutional.

One city passed a law aimed at getting rid of the sign-carrying "sandwich man." But the law was promptly challenged in court.

Was it justified as a means of keeping the sidewalks clear? Yet it still allowed signs carried by pickets—presumably, just as much an obstruction of the sidewalks.

Was it justified as a means of keeping the city beautiful? Yet it still allowed signs carried on street cars and busses—presumably, no more attractive.

Result: the law was held unconstitutional. The court said the city could not, in such an unfair and arbitrary manner, "at one stroke wipe out a long-standing form of cheap advertising."

A RUBBER PHANTOM is helping teach X-ray technology in medical schools and X-ray training centers, eliminating the necessity and risk of students taking X rays of each other. Built around a human skeleton his rubber body includes rubber and plastic materials molded into shapes of vital organs. After the rubber framework of the model is molded, it is sawed into slices, as shown at lower left, so tiny chambers can be inserted to measure X-ray dosage and assist in practice treatment of tumors. Materials used in construction duplicate weight and appearance of human parts, insuring radiographs that appear true to life, as seen at lower right.

The amount of crude oil originally in the world has been estimated to be about 16 trillion barrels, according to The World Almanac. Only 60 per cent of this amount is expected to be discovered. The remaining 40 per cent lies in relatively inaccessible parts of the world. In the United States, about 1 trillion of the 1.6 trillion barrels originally in place will have been discovered eventually.

West Innocent Of Bridge Crime

By Oswald & James Jacoby
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The trial of West for murdering the defense was approaching its climax. East, the principal witness for the prosecution, was in the witness chair and the district attorney was conducting the examination.

D.A.: "Describe the play of the hand."
East: "The king of clubs won the first trick. My ace took the second and West's queen won the third. West shifted to a trump and declarer proceeded to run off all seven of his trumps. On the last trump lead West unguarded his king of spades and South made his contract."
D.A.: "That is all. Your witness."

Merry Payson, the great defense attorney, rose. He asked, "You have played bridge for many years, haven't you?"
East: "Yes."
Payson: "When did you first know that South held seven trumps?"
East: "I guess when my partner showed out on the second trump lead."
Payson: "What were your discards on South's trump leads?"

Nassau Has a Charming Problem

By DAVE BURGIN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NASSAU, BAHAMAS — (NEA)—There is concern in the Caribbean that some of the better-known tourist Edens may end up like San Juan, Puerto Rico—too big, too slick and too American.

The problem is with charm. So far as tourism is concerned, what is a small island without it?

On New Providence, where Nassau, the capital of the Bahamas, is located, residents are largely dependent on the tourist dollar but at the same time they're concerned about room.

"I spend all week peddling land," said an American-born real estate salesman and developer, "then I think sometimes that I'd hate to see Nassau and some of the out islands turned into one big hotel."

More than a year ago President Johnson's administration irked islanders with the bill that reduced the duty-free allowance of American tourists from $166 to $100 retail value. Also, duty-free liquor allowance for each American was reduced from one gallon to one quart.

Purpose of the law, of course, was to help offset the U.S. balance of payments deficit. But the law was aimed mostly at Europe, not the Caribbean.

The law has since evoked mixed reactions. It has slowed any process that would turn Nassau and other popular islands into "one big hotel" but at the same time many livelihoods were on the line.

THE ROOM IN NASSAU CONTINUES. But with any boom, especially in the area of tourism, comes problems—namely, traffic, commercialism and, since Nassau is on an island, space.

Nassau is a haven for shoppers—everything from chinaware to clothing to knick-knacks imported from Mother England. Purchases had to fall off, but not as drastically as expected, Bahamians say.

"Now," said the real estate man, "Americans have made the adjustment—completely forgot about the law, in fact—and things are getting back to boom."

Actually, when they talk "boom" in Nassau, they talk about a boom within a certain crowd—a young through middle-age swinging crowd. Prices in most restaurants and most hotels are reasonable for what is offered. Shops are loaded with bargains.

The swiftest clubs—

such as Charley Charley's and the Lemon Tree—are simple and guardedly uncommercial. They do not begin to roll until the wee hours because tourists spend the early part of the evening at dinner, in the fine casino, the Bahamian Club, or watching a show in one of the hotels.

Nassau is a paradise for water sports, really untapped relative to other aspects of tourism. Equipment is readily available and at reasonable prices.

Most important, New Providence and Nassau still have what they fear losing—charm. It is to Americans, a combination of English custom and native vitality and the exotic feeling of simply being on a friendly, sun-splattered island. Nassau so far is unspoiled by big money (even many natives discourage big tippers) and super plush facilities. Still, it is probably inevitable that Nassau and other islands in the Caribbean will some day become "one big hotel."

Now Bahamians seem to be trying hard not to let things grow too fast. In promotion, it is a tricky matter of selling charm and at the same time maintaining it.

ANTITANK MISSILE makes an enemy tank a sitting duck, though it may be traveling at top speed more than a mile away. Hits in tests have been scored on targets moving at 30 m.p.h. The gunner draws a bead with his telescopic sight and holds the cross-hair on the target while under cover of protective riflemen. The missile is automatically guided to the spot at which the sight is aimed.

'Beaujolais' in England

By TOM A. CULLEN
European Staff Correspondent
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

LONDON—(NEA)—Ten of France's most distinguished winetasters recently met to sample some of the red wines that are being sold here as genuine "Beaujolais."

As they sipped the "Beaujolais," their faces assumed comic expressions of disgust worthy of Fernandel. In what was purely a reflex action, one taster spat the wine into a brass spittoon, swilled his mouth out with water.

Others scribbled notes in which the words "old, dry, thin, horrible" appeared with monotonous regularity. The panel's verdict: none of the 14 "Beaujolais" wines sampled was the genuine article. Six of them were definitely bogus, four were doubtful, four were thought possible, meaning that they had a clean, clear color and many of the characteristics of Beaujolais.

"If wine merchants tried to palm this stuff off as Beaujolais in France, the police would be kept busy," muttered Pierre Deage, inspector of the Lyons Fraud Squad, who was one of the wine-tasters. "I don't know how they get away with it in Britain," he added.

Wine-faking, itself, is as old as the wine trade. It was practiced by the Romans and became so widespread that in A.D. 301 the emperor Diocletian threatened to nationalize the whole wine industry if the growers and merchants didn't behave.

Most countries have since enacted laws to guarantee the origin of good wines and to protect their quality from dilution. French laws, for example, insist that when a wine is labeled with the name of a region or a commune that it must be grown in that region or commune.

The United States falls into line with French practice by demanding certificates of origin and quality for all wines imported. Only the British are out of step.

In fact, the blending of inferior wines and labeling them as Pommard, Chablis or Beune is so common here that even old-fashioned wine merchants are guilty of the practice. The experts claim that any Burgundy priced below $2.45 a bottle is bound to be bogus, consisting usually of a cheap French table wine cut with Moroccan or Algerian wine.

"There is more Beaujolais drunk in the city of Paris than is produced in the entire Beaujolais region," a French wine expert remarked not long ago. Inasmuch as the British alone consume 15 million gallons of wine a year, much of it labeled "Beaujolais," many imbibers are the victims of fraud.

Much of the wine-faking is done in a prosaic-looking brick building facing the harbor at Ipswich, in Suffolk. Here, twice a week, a steamer ties up at the wharf and unloads 550-gallon bulk containers of nameless wines from France.

The concrete floor of the wine factory is crisscrossed with heavy, fireman-type hoses, and there is a whirr of pumps and the clatter of bottling machinery. It is here that ordinary French table wines are cut, diluted or blended with Algerian or Moroccan crude.

The product that emerges is labeled Chateaufort du Pape, and described in the merchant's wine list thus: "From the sun-baked valley of the Rhone a full, full wine; goes well with any meat, especially game."

There has been some muttering among the vintners of Bordeaux of bringing a law suit in British courts in order to protect their good name. (Champagne growers fought a successful action here against importers of "Spanish champagne" five years ago.)

There is also talk of bringing a bill before Parliament which would make mislabeling a fraud punishable by law. Meanwhile, in the absence of protective legislation, Britons are making do with Beaujolais Anglais, and hoping that their friends are amused by its presumption.

that is largely responsible for his current difficulties.

Because history, tradition and precedent all tend to blunt the effectiveness of the challenge to Powell's seat, some of his opponents also plan to try to take away his chairmanship of the Education and Labor Committee.

This could be accomplished by a majority of the Democratic members at their caucus Jan. 9, Rep. Sam Gibbons, D-Fla., who led the fight to reduce Powell's powers as chairman last session, is planning the strategy for having him ousted.

A major weapon in the move will be the forthcoming report of a House Administration subcommittee that investigated the payroll and travel expenditures of Powell's committee and found that somewhere between 75 and 100 airline trips, paid for as official trips by staff members, were taken by someone else.

Powell's preference for lolling in the sun in the Bahamas instead of facing the subcommittee's questioning will be used to support the charge that he is unfit to continue as chairman.

Precedent is also against deposing committee chairmen, and the success of this effort, as well as that of the seating challenge, lies almost entirely with Speaker John W. McCormack.

Skilled workers account for the largest share of outboard motor purchases, according to a boating club.

Powell's Pride in Greatest Danger Now

By JOHN BECKLER
WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Adam Clayton Powell's pride appears to be in greater danger than his seat in Congress from the challenge being readied to bar him from the House when Congress convenes Jan. 10.

Even if he is denied the right to be sworn in with his 434 colleagues — as seems most likely — there is almost no chance he will actually be excluded from membership at that time and his Harlem district declared

Wants New Look at Great Society Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield set wheels in motion today for a suggested "major re-examination" by the Senate of "Great Society" program and older controversial laws such as the draft, income tax and foreign aid.

Mansfield issued his recommendations for a "thoroughgoing, second look" at major programs from Medicare and civil rights to farm subsidies in a letter to the Senate's 17 committee chairmen.

Such studies, the Montanan said, could find rough edges, overextensions and gaps in newer programs, and update and check equity of administration handling of older laws such as Selective Service.

Mansfield said his recommendations were not in response to Democratic election losses or complaints by Democratic governors about administration of some programs.

He noted that he had been saying for more than a year that it was time for Congress to "stop, look and listen."

Nor, he said, were Vietnam war costs the reason for Congress to pause and re-examine. "With or without Vietnam, in my judgment, the Senate of the United States, through its committees, would have a responsibility for beginning the kind of top-to-bottom oversight which is suggested herein," he said.

Mansfield said the 90th Congress, opening Jan. 10, would have a unique opportunity to fill the needs for "dispassionate restudy" because he didn't expect it to receive a heavy load of new legislation.

The Democratic leader left it up to the committees to determine what laws most needed restudy.

But he called attention to all the new programs "designed to correspond to the nation's changing needs." He mentioned Medicare, civil rights, curbs on air and water pollution, and those dealing with education, urban and rural problems.

Citing legislation passed in the last two busy Congresses, Mansfield said "considering the vast scope of this work and the unprecedented nature of much of it, it is to be expected that there exists a number of rough edges, overextensions and overlaps and, perhaps, even significant gaps."

Bodies of 3 Found, Man Is Charged

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — The bodies of three teen-age boys — two brothers and their friend — have been found. Police have charged a neighbor of the youths with three counts of murder.

Vaughn Murphy, 15, his brother, Steve, 13, and Will Binzel, 14, all of nearby Homewood, were last seen Christmas Night as they went to purchase supplies for a holiday camping trip. Their bodies were found Monday.

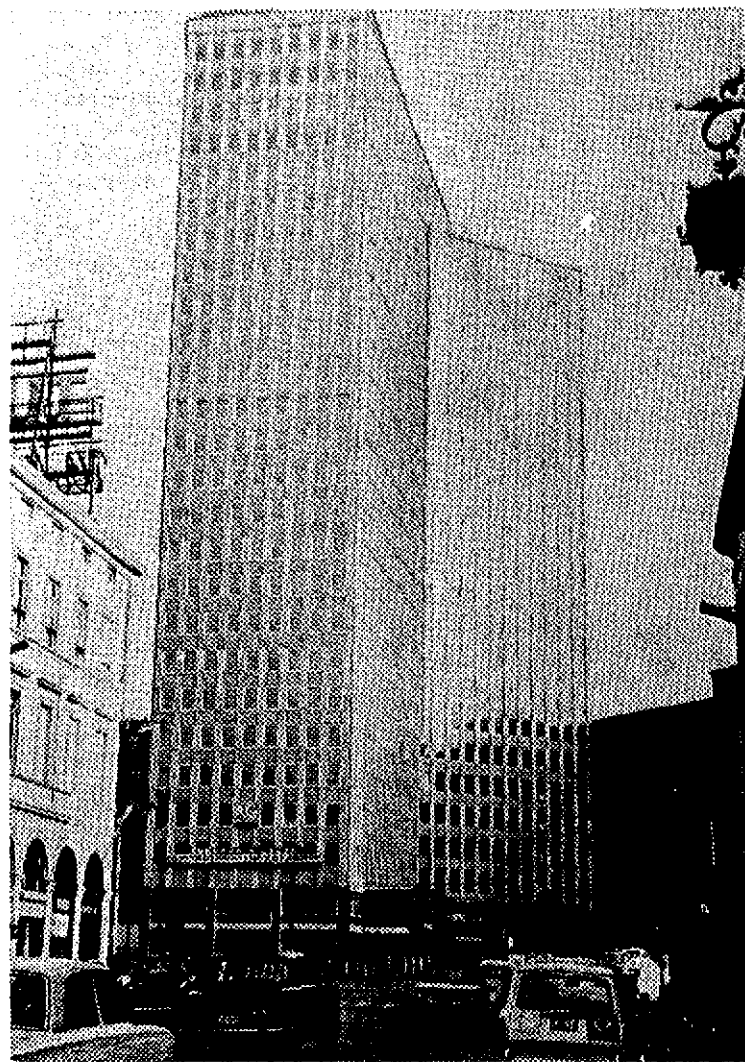

Shelby County Sheriff C.P. Walker said David McCarter Jr., 25, also of Homewood, had been charged with three counts of murder in connection with the deaths.

Authorities, who had said earlier the boys apparently were slain by a sex deviate, were non-communicative about the arrest.

"It's too early to release anything concerning the findings as they will have to be studied closely and at length before we can be sure of anything," Asst. State Toxicologist Robert Johnson said following his post-mortem examination.

Witnesses said the youths had severe head injuries. Sheriff Walker said it appeared the three were killed at another location and their bodies dumped from a vehicle.

Investigators said McCarter was arrested at the home of his parents in Homewood a few blocks from where the three boys lived. He was convicted recently in Jefferson County Court on morals charge and fined $250, authorities said.

New Protein Food From Crude Oil

By FRANK CJREY
Associated Press Science Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Promising prospects for a major new protein food made by mixing living bacteria with crude oil products were reported by scientists today.

A team working on the project said it could be a significant food source for developing countries which might be competitive in price with skim milk powder.

For folks who could be squeamish about eating food derived with the help of bacteria, the researchers pointed to yogurt, vinegar, cheese, sauerkraut, cured meats, soy sauce and other foods already in this category.

Living yeasts might also be used instead of the bacteria in producing the protein, Dr. John G. McNab of the Esso Research and Engineering Co., New York, and Prof. Louis R. Rey of Nestle Alimentana, South America, said in a report prepared for the 133rd meeting of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

With yeast or bacteria, the living micro-organisms would, in effect, be weaned on, and caused to multiply, by feeding them high-quality hydrocarbons derived from the distillation of crude petroleum oil.

Out of this brew, featuring a constant fermentation process, would eventually come a dried, powdery protein substance called single cell protein.

Special heat treatment prior to final processing would be designed to kill all bacteria or yeast organisms after their job was done.

McNab and Rey said that a number of technical and economic problems remain to be solved but "we are confident that all of these problems can be solved and that single cell protein can represent a major new source of protein," possibly within the next decade.

Soviet Ship Lands on Moon

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union's second unmanned spaceship to make a soft landing on the moon "has tested the firmness and density of lunar ground," Tass says.

Besides transmitting fresh pictures back to earth, Luna 13 has forced a test rod into the lunar soil by means of mechanical manipulators, the Soviet news agency reported Monday. It said the rod will indicate surface and subsurface firmness.

Tass said the spaceship, which landed Saturday, also contained a radiation density meter to provide information about the firmness of the top layer of the moon's crust.

Holiday Death Toll Shows Sharp Decline

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic accident deaths during the nation's Christmas holiday weekend fell sharply lower than last year's yuletide record and broke a chain of nine successive holiday records.

The toll was 561 as the 78-hour period ended at midnight. Last year, the three-day Christmas weekend brought 720 traffic deaths.

The count for the weekend just ended is subject to upward revision from delayed reports of fatalities, but it was clearly under the 650 to 750 deaths estimated by the National Safety Council before the holiday.

A safety council spokesman said a weekend snowstorm which covered a broad swath of the nation from Oklahoma to New England kept perhaps a million motorists at home, cutting travel and accidents.

Nevertheless, fatalities far outstripped those of a nonholiday period of similar length. The Associated Press surveyed traffic accident death from 6 p.m. (local time), Friday, Dec. 9, to midnight Monday, Dec. 12. The count of deaths then was 391.

The safety council issued an estimate for next weekend's three-day New Year observance when, it said, accidents probably would kill 10 to 90 more persons than on a nonholiday winter weekend.

The New Year traffic toll estimate by the council was 460 to 540 for the period from 6 p.m. (local time) Friday, Dec. 30 to midnight Monday, Jan. 2.

The relatively low count for the holiday just ended broke the chain of holiday records. Each holiday death toll since that of Memorial Day 1965 has set a record.

Thanksgiving weekend, a four-day, or 102-hour period, brought 748 traffic deaths, a record for any holiday.

Earlier holiday tolls this year, all for three-day periods, were New Year 546, Memorial Day 542, July 4, 576, and Labor Day 636.

Bombings Killed Some Civilians

NEW YORK (AP) — U. S. bombing raids along rail and highway supply routes near Hanoi have killed civilians and severely damaged residential areas, Harrison E. Salisbury, an assistant managing editor of the New York Times, has reported from Hanoi.

Some villages and hamlets have been "almost obliterated" by the American attacks "but the effect on transportation has been minimal," Salisbury said in a dispatch in the Times today.

In another dispatch, Salisbury said he visited Nam Dinh, 50 miles southeast of the North Vietnamese capital, on Christmas Day and found block after block of "utter desolation." He said 89 people have been killed and 405 wounded by raids there.

He also reported that raids Oct. 1, 2 and 9 killed or wounded 40 persons and destroyed every house and building in Phu Ly, a town of 10,000 about 35 miles south of Hanoi. Nearly all the population had been evacuated.

He reported earlier that his personal inspection indicates U. S. bombing has been causing "considerable civilian casualties in Hanoi and its environs for some time past."

The Defense Department in Washington, asked for comment on Salisbury's reports, acknowledged that civilian areas have been damaged by the U. S. bombing of North Vietnam but said "all possible care is taken to avoid civilian casualties."

Reiterating that U. S. policy is to strike at "North Vietnamese military targets only," a Pentagon statement said: "It is impossible to avoid all damage to civilian areas." Officials said both Nam Dinh and Phu Ly were "loaded" with antiaircraft batteries and missile-firing positions.

Salisbury said his Christmas Day tour of Nam Dinh was interrupted by a 21-minute air raid alert, and that Tran Thi Doan, the city's 40-year-old woman mayor, told him there had been 51 raids on her city up to Dec. 23.

He reported the old French Highway 1 between Saigon and Hanoi runs almost parallel to the main railroad over flat land and would appear to be a bombardier's dream target but is not.

"The railroad and highway have been bombed again and again, but it is doubtful that rail traffic has ever been held up more than a few hours, and the highway seems capable of operating almost continuously regardless of how many bombs are dropped," Salisbury wrote.

He said the railroad can be repaired quickly because it uses small, light equipment and enough repair materials "probably sufficient to construct two or three additional railroads are kept on hand, seldom more than a few hundred yards from any possible break."

He arrived in Hanoi Friday from Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, after the State Department validated his passport for travel to North Vietnam and the North Vietnamese granted him a visa.

U.S. Acknowledges Civilian Areas in North Vietnam Hit

By SEYMOUR M. HERSH
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon has acknowledged that civilian areas in North Vietnam have been damaged during U.S. air raids but declares that only military targets have been scheduled for attack.

The Defense Department statement said, in part: "It is impossible to avoid all damage to civilian areas, especially when the North Vietnamese deliberately emplace their air defense sites, their dispersed POL — petroleum, oil and lubricants — sites, their radar and other military facilities in populated areas, and indeed sometimes on the roofs of government buildings."

Pentagon officials said the statement was issued in response to questions from the New York Times.

The U. S. statement emphasized that American "policy is to target North Vietnamese military targets only, particularly those which have a direct impact on the movement of men and supplies into South Vietnam."

"These targets include roads, railroads, bridges, railroad junctions, POL facilities, military barracks and supply depots."

"They also include those antiaircraft and SAM — surface-to-air missile — sites which endanger the lives of American pilots."

The Air defenses surrounding Hanoi, the North Vietnamese capital, are considered by U.S. military men to be the most sophisticated ever faced by American fliers. Some pilots call Hanoi "Dodge City."

U.S. intelligence experts credit the North Vietnamese with more than 70 SAM sites, most of them ringed about Hanoi, and thousands of antiaircraft batteries, many of them scattered throughout that city.

The Pentagon statement did not mention Hanoi, where Communists claim more than 100 civilians were killed or wounded by U.S. bombs falling inside the city limits Dec. 13-14.

Pentagon officials Dec. 15 denied those charges.

A New York Times story published Sunday and written from Hanoi by Harrison E. Salisbury, assistant managing editor, said that "on-the-spot inspection indicates that American bombing has been inflicting considerable civilian casualties in Hanoi and its environs for some time past."

Cong Attack Beaten Off by 170 GIs

By ROBERT TUCKMAN
SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — A battalion of North Vietnamese regulars overran positions of about 170 U.S. cavalrymen in the Crow's Foot area near the central coast before dawn today and inflicted heavy casualties, but finally broke and fled under intensive American fire.

Cavalrymen sweeping the battlefield at dawn found 52 enemy bodies and 44 fresh graves. Some of these men of Hanoi's 22nd Regiment, 610th Division, evidently were killed by Communist fire when they ran into a trap set in the hope that Americans would do the running.

The Americans were about 60 troopers of C Company, 1st Cavalry, 12th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry, Airborne, Division, and 110 artillerymen from two batteries totaling 10 howitzers. The artillerymen fired at point-blank range to help stem the onslaught.

About 250 of the estimated 600 enemy regulars — apparently positioned during the two-day Christmas truce — slashed into the egg-shaped American perimeter at two points in the initial attack. They knocked out one 105mm howitzer with mortar fire and damaged two others with satchel charges. They dropped a grenade down the barrel of a 155mm piece, but it was a dud. The Americans were driven into a ring only 30 yards wide.

"I felt like Custer," said one of the artillery officers, Lt. Michael C. Livergood of Billings, Mont.

Air strikes, fire from a cavalry platoon on high ground nearby and shells from artillery at a landing zone 3 1/2 miles away helped to break the attacks.
